

A link to my resume:

Hello 😊. My name is Akeil Zarudny. I have recently completed my bachelor's degree in history at the University of Toronto (I also minored in music history and political science). I went to high school on a scholarship at Upper Canada College. I experienced a delayed graduation as the result of a functional neurological disorder (fndhope.org) that started around the same time as COVID-19 and am looking for my first job after university (with the exception of about 400 uber deliveries) and am hoping you can help. The condition has worsened since it first began but as you can see I am still able to write this email and have even been able to work on some javascript and python programming recently (github.com/akeilzar). With my disability I may not appear to be the perfect employee but my compassion has increased and I hope this can help me connect with your clients in a more thoughtful way. I am eagerly looking for work that can make use of the research and analytical tools I picked up in school, any entry level position regardless of pay. If your business has any openings or if you know anyone with whom I may interview I would sincerely appreciate it if you might send me an email at akeil.zarudny@outlook.com. My phone number is 647-460-4034. Because of my nervous system disorder, paying for consistent service is not easy let alone having adequate heat in the winter. I am living with my parents. To help you get to know me a bit better here is some of my music:
